Additional $540,000 for Quad-City schools

Illinois schools will see another $75 million added to their coffers following ratification of an agreement by the Illinois General Assembly Wednesday. That action means that $540,000 more will be coming to Quad-City area schools.

The agreement, reached between Governor James Thompson and legislative leaders, adds $75 million to the $20 million in tax amnesty collections earmarked for school appropriations.

ACCORDING TO State Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville), the measure provides that Madison County schools will receive a total of $1.3 million in state funds from the tax amnesty program. The agreement specifies that the Granite City School District should receive $437,794, the Madison School District $78,291 and the Venice School District $24,387.

Also included in the agreement is the distribution of $25.3 million to Chicago schools. State officials hope the amount will be sufficient to settle an eight-day strike in the school district.

The agreement was ratified in the House by a 106-4 vote, while the Senate approved the measure 50-3. If Governor Thompson signs the measure into law, it is expected that the schools will receive the additional funds in a lump sum in January.

MORE THAN $127 million was collected through the tax amnesty program. When the tax amnesty program first was approved last spring, some $20 million was to be set aside for additional aid to schools.

State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City), told the Press-Record he supports the new measure. "I'm very happy to see this pass. It will provide some badly needed assistance for our schools," Wolf said he is certain that the governor will approve the additional funds for schools.

In other action Wednesday, the House rejected proposals for pay in-

New facility for alcohol and drug care

St. Elizabeth Medical Center, in cooperation with St. John's Mercy Medical Center in St. Louis, have announced they will begin construction on the new Edgewood-Edwardsville Campus, a 40-bed alcoholism and chemical dependency treatment facility, according to Ted Ellerman, SEMC executive vice president. Talbot Hall at SEMC will move to the new facility, when it is completed.

Groundbreaking for the new building, which will be constructed on the north side of University Drive and St. Louis Road (Route 157) near the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus, took place at 11:30 a.m. yesterday. The target completion date is early 1988.

"WE HAVE gone into a partnership with St. John's Mercy because we feel both programs share the same philosophy," said Ellerman. "We could combine our knowledge and skills to create a regional center that benefits the communities on both sides of the river."

St. John's Mercy operates the Edgewood program for chemical dependency in St. Louis. Talbot Hall has been the chemical dependency program at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The Edgewood program maintains a philosophy of providing a total-person approach to the treatment of alcoholism and related dependencies, focusing on the physical, spiritual, psychological and sociological aspects of the disease.

"EDGEWOOD HAS been involved in the field of alcoholism since 1971," said Ellerman, "and we feel that because of its long tradition of service, we can gain by their involvement in this program."

Under a contract with SEMC, St. John's Mercy Medical Center will be responsible for the clinical aspects of the program, as well as the day-to-day outside operations. St. John's will also provide the top four management people, including the director of the program, to be named later, and Lyle Cameron, director of the Edgewood program and vice president of St. John's Mercy, who will coordinate both programs.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center will

More opposition in mayors' races

Although local elections are not scheduled until next April, the mayoral race in at least one city, is getting to be a little bit crowded.

According to Granite City Clerk Robert W. Stevens, four men have tossed their hat into the ring in Granite City, by taking out petitions to run for mayor.

AS OF THIS MORNING, persons taking out petitions include the incumbent, Mayor Paul Schuler; Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruise; Edward Jelf, a security guard at K-Mart; and Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Ray Bowler.

The mayoral election in Madison also may involve several candidates. Although Frank Dutto, a Madison County Board member and former Madison police chief, is the only one having taken out a petition for mayor by this morning, there probably will be at least two more candidates.

City Clerk John Bellcoff announced his candidacy for mayor in August of 1983. He told the Press-Record he will be taking out a petition shortly.

THERE ALSO MAY be a third candidate—whichever is selected by the city council to replace Mayor Mike Sasyk, who will resign in January. Third Ward Alderman Tom Gordon was suggested by Sasyk.

Venice also should have at least two candidates for mayor. Although no one has taken out petitions there, Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine has announced his candidacy and Mayor Tyrone Echols is expected to seek re-election.

For other city positions, Granite City Clerk Stevens and Nick Petrillo, city treasurer, are running unopposed, thus far. No petitions for those offices have been taken out by anyone in Madison or Venice.

ALDERMANIC RACES also are sluggish. In Granite City, there are only two wards that have more than one entrant, thus far.

Those seeking re-election without current opposition are incumbents Casmer Skubish, First Ward; Fred "Pat" Schuman, Second Ward; Jake Varadian, Fifth Ward, and Stephen Saltich, Sixth Ward.

The biggest contest seems to be in the Third Ward, where incumbent Carl Kittel is being challenged by three persons. The challengers are Homer Crisell, Beverly Schutzenhofer and Brett Hanke.

IN THE FOURTH Ward, incumbent Sharon Perjak is being challenged by Robert Bell, a Granite City firefighter.

The race for the Seventh Ward seat has not begun, since no one has taken out a petition for that post. Alderman Bowler is the incumbent in that ward.

No aldermen in Madison or Venice have taken out a petition as of today.

Seat belt law passes Senate

After July 1, 1985, motorists who don't "buckle up" will face a $25 fine, if the governor signs legislation approved by the Illinois Senate Wednesday and sent to Governor James R. Thompson for his signature.

The legislation, which was narrowly approved by the House this spring, would require drivers and front seat passengers to wear seat belts.

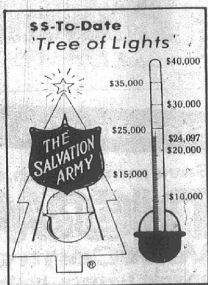

GOVERNOR THOMPSON said he has not decided whether to sign the measure.

The bill does not give police authority to stop motorists solely because they are not wearing seat belts. However, if a vehicle is stopped for another violation and it is discovered those in the front seat are not wearing seat belts, the additional charge can be filed.

It is estimated that mandatory use of seat belts will save 400 lives a year in Illinois. Also, if enough states pass mandatory seat belt laws, the government may back off from efforts to force domestic auto manufacturers to install air bags or automatic seat belts in new cars.

OPONENTS of the mandatory seat belt use law contend that it is another case of government encroachment on the lives of the citizens. "This is a wrong, wrong, wrong bill," said Sen. Adeline Geokaris (R-Ill.).

NOW YOU SEE THEM . . . Granite City police officers take information from the drivers of two cars involved in an accident Tuesday morning west of Nameoki Road on Edwardsville Road. The car in the foreground, driven by Janet Foster, 2808 Edgewood Ave., was struck from behind by a car driven Robert Gerber, 2554 Parkview Drive. The drivers and their passengers all escaped serious injury. Dense smog emanating from the blast furnace division of Granite City Steel was blamed, by at least one person involved, as the cause of the accident.

... NOW YOU DON'T. Dense steam and smoke emanating from the cooling towers of the nearby blast furnace quickly engulfs the accident scene just minutes after the first photo was taken, from the same location. The dense smog totally obscured drivers' visibility at times on sections of the highway. Not even the emergency lights of three police cars and one wrecker are visible through the smog. Granite City Steel security officers were immediately dispatched to aid motorists in safely passing the area.

Trespass charge follows arrest at business site

Granite City police arrested Charles Baker, 32, of 122 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, last week as he was climbing down from a roof of the Affiliated Metals building in a warehouse and industrial complex near 1100 Niedringhaus Ave. they alleged in filing charges of land trespassing and resisting arrest.

Officers initially saw a man walking on privately-owned property adjacent to a Fox Co. warehouse. When they called to him, the man ran south into the darkness and it was decided to summon additional police to search the area. The arrest followed.

Little Star Pageant seeks contestants

Requests are now being accepted for the 1985 Illinois Little Star Pageant which will be held Saturday, July 27, 1985 at the Holiday Inn Conference Resort in Decatur, Ill. This is the official preliminary to the National Little Star Pageant which will be held in Florida, October of 1985, in which a young girl will be representing every state, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. The National Little Star Pageant is affiliated with the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant which is the oldest teen pageant of its kind in the country, according to Kathy Lanni, national director.

Contestants must be between the ages of four to seven and will be judged on poise, personality, interview and appearance.

Trophies will be awarded in the following categories: Miss Photogenic, Best Personality, Most Poised and Best Party Dress.

Tinkerbell Good Grooming Products will award a special plaque to the winner of the Good Grooming Award. Tinkerbell will also award a gift to the top five.

All contestants will have a full day of pageant events and mothers will be invited to spend the entire day with their daughters. Contestants will be escorted on stage in their party dresses, and each contestant will participate in a judges interview.

The winner will receive a cash award, an official portrait, national little star accessories, a swimsuit from Pelican Harbor Swimsuits (a division of Pelican Fashion Industries, Inc.), and a round trip flight for herself and one parent to the National Little Star Pageant in Florida.

Interested young girls should write: Illinois Little Star Pageant, Dept. PR, 32 Linda Drive, Westfield, Mass. 01085, for further information and an application. This pageant was formerly known as National Little Miss, the director said.

Township officials take steps toward annexation

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Nameoki Town Board of Trustees unanimously voted Monday night to enter into an agreement with the village of Pontoon Beach to allow that village to annex the township offices and garage.

During Monday's town board meeting, Town Clerk Lee Ridgeway informed the trustees that the Pontoon Beach Village Board has amended its taxation ordinance so that taxing entities are exempted from the village's utility tax, which funds the village police department.

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP Supervisor Harry Briggs said he will now present a description of the property (about a half acre) to Pontoon Beach officials for board action. He expects the annexation to be approved in a "few weeks."

The annexation proposal concerns only township offices and the township's highway department buildings.

Trustee Joe Garcia commented about the annexation, "The simple fact is that any time the deputy sheriff comes out here, they charge us $50 (for false burglar alarms). The village police will come out here and not charge us."

BRIGGS NOTED, "The village police department is right here, whereas it might take the county half an hour to get here."

The Madison County Sheriff's Department has fined the township on several occasions when the burglar alarm system on the township buildings has inadvertently gone off.

In a related matter, the trustees discussed efforts to obtain a toll-free telephone line to the county sheriff's department for Nameoki Township residents. Chouteau Township already has a toll-free line to the department for its residents. Currently, calls to the sheriff's department carry long-distance charges for Nameoki township residents.

TRUSTEE HELEN HAWKINS pointed out that the township had budgeted $759 in revenue sharing funds for a toll-free line to the county sheriff's department. She asked if the toll-free line could be operating by the Christmas holidays.

Briggs told her that he had been talking to the sheriff's department, and that all telephone lines going into the department are full. He said it would cost $2,000 to add another line for the township.

Township officials have contended that the township should not pay the entire cost of a new line and that negotiations to obtain a new line have been going on for a year.

offices be annexed by Pontoon Beach, the Pontoon Beach police department would take over protection duties for those offices, and services from the county sheriff's department would no longer be needed by the township offices.

Residents in the township not in Pontoon Beach, however, would still require services from the county sheriff's office.

In other business Monday, Louise Ware, a resident of the Arlington Heights subdivision, alleged that packs of coyotes have been roaming the subdivision. Nameoki Township Tax Collector Norman Hall told Mrs. Ware that he could supply her with the telephone number of a wildlife agent who might be able to take care of the problem.

Briggs reported to the board that the township has received $4,100 from an insurance company to cover the damages when a township backhoe was hit by a train last fall.

ALSO, THE BOARD transferred $6,500 in the contingency fund to the labor and maintenance fund. Both are contained in the permanent road fund.

Refunds from Gulf ordered

The U.S. Department of Energy has announced a special refund proceeding to distribute $42,240,000, plus accumulated interest, obtained from the Gulf Corporation as a result of a consent order.

The department is informing the public they may be eligible for a refund under this proceeding. Those who may be eligible include purchasers who bought Gulf Oil Company petroleum products, either from Gulf directly or from a firm that sold Gulf products, during the period of Aug. 19, 1973, through Jan. 31, 1976.

Applications for refunds now are being accepted by the Department of Energy from resellers, retailers and consumers of Gulf petroleum products during the above period.

The amount of an applicant's refund will be based on the volume of purchases. Different application requirements apply to the different types of applicants. Completed applications are to be sent to the Office of Hearings and Appeals of the Department of Energy. They must be postmarked by Jan. 7, 1985.

Vyvyne Durbin fights back from stroke

By VALERIE EVENED
of the Press-Record

Vyvyne L. (Brooks) Durbin of Moline, Ill., a native of Granite City and a former longtime resident, has been honored by the Franciscan Medical Center's Rehabilitation Center at Rock Island, Ill., as one of two "Rehabilitants of the Year."

Mrs. Durbin, a contract specialist at Rock Island Arsenal, and Harlan "Drew" Hohenboken, a Hillsdale (Ill.) farmer, were selected as the rehabilitation center's honorees.

Both suffered strokes last year and after undergoing rehabilitation therapy at the Rock Island hospital returned to work.

In special ceremonies Nov. 26 at the Franciscan Medical Center, Rock Island Mayor James Davis presented the awards and praised the two honorees.

"It's a pleasure and honor to make these presentations. These people are remarkable and they've shown courage that the rest of us wish we had," the mayor said.

Mrs. Durbin, who works for the federal government at the Rock Island Arsenal, returned to work about two months after her Aug. 20, 1983, stroke.

The stroke left her right side paralyzed, but before Thanksgiving in 1983, she was back to work.

Mrs. Durbin was hospitalized for two months after suffering the stroke at home where she lives alone with her dog, Bamboo. She had celebrated her sixth birthday five days before.

Not until she called police for help and heard her own sturred speech did she realize that she was having a stroke.

Her physician, Dr. Vijay Verma, said from the first day Mrs. Durbin was a patient at Franciscan Medical Center, she was always determined and interested and always had the goal to go back to work.

Therapy proved difficult at first, Mrs. Durbin said. She underwent speech therapy, occupational therapy for use of her arms and upper body and physical therapy for her legs.

She was taught by therapists at the center how to take a shower, dress herself, and get in and out of bed.

She refused to limit herself and when told she couldn't do something, she invariably responded, "Don't tell me I can't, because I can't."

"I told myself that I've never been a quitter and if other people can do it, I can too."

Her sons, Dennis, a high school music director who lives in Sycamore, Ill., and Donald, an Illinois State Police officer, who resides in Woodstock, provided her with invaluable support. Although both live nearly 100 miles from Moline, they drove to the hospital at every opportunity to offer her encouragement.

Slowly, Mrs. Durbin learned to walk and cope with her paralyzed right side and two weeks after her hospital release, she used the therapy to walk into work.

Her family thought she should retire, Mrs. Durbin said. "But I was determined that I was going to learn to speak and walk well enough so I could work."

"I couldn't afford to retire with all the medical bills," she said. She will have 20 years service with the federal government next October.

At first, she was confined to a wheelchair for most of the time, but now she can walk short distances with a cane. She uses an Amigo, an electric go-cart, for longer walking distances.

Although her right arm still is pretty well useless and her right leg remains in a brace from the knee down, Mrs. Durbin feels fortunate and she believes other stroke victims could recover the same way.

Her advice to them — "Get up and try it. You are not going to get better sitting there."

Born and reared in Granite City, Mrs. Durbin graduated from Granite City High School and, just a few years ago, attained her bachelor's degree from the University of Missouri at St. Louis.

She joined the Civil Service when she became a keypunch operator at the Granite City Army Installation in 1964.

Later, she was transferred to the Federal Government Building in St. Louis, where she worked for the Department of Agriculture and the Department of the Army.

She has been at the Rock Island Arsenal for the past five years and is now a buyer in the Arsenal's weapons department.

She was formerly employed as office manager at Tri-City Printing Co. and also was a Nameoki correspondent for the Press-Record.

Mrs. Durbin was among the charter members of Paddlers' Swim Club and the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club.

She was active in the Nameoki School and Coolidge Junior High School PTAs, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts and the Granite City High School Band Parents' Association.

The former resident now drives a car and she is no longer confined to the workplace and home.

In one of her first driving experiences after the stroke, her usual determination prevailed and she traveled 50 miles to meet her son, Donald, and his wife, Marie, for Sunday dinner at a restaurant about halfway between their home and Moline.

Some friends from Granite City, traveling from here to Iowa for the Thanksgiving holiday, stopped at her home for a visit, only to find her gone.

"She was probably out playing bingo or had gone to visit Donny or Dennis," they commented.

Only one year ago, such a statement would have seemed an impossible achievement. That's unless you know Vyvyne Durbin.

THREE INJURED IN CRASH INVOLVING BI-STATE BUS

Three persons were injured last week, when a car skidded on an icy path on the Broadway viaduct and collided with a Bi-State bus. The driver of the car, Raymond Winston, 61, of Lovejoy, was not injured.

But the driver and two passengers aboard the bus were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance, for treatment. Injured were: Peggie Jean Butler, 37, the bus driver, and William Murphy, 35, and Larry Neff, 42, both of St. Louis.

ALLEGED ITEMS TAKEN AT MEDICAL CENTER

Three Venice residents were charged with theft during the weekend in connection with packages of cookies reportedly being taken from a fifth floor storage pantry at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and a stuffed animal and another toy allegedly removed from the hospital's gift shop.

Stopped by security personnel as they were getting off an elevator at SEMC were Yavanna G. Bradley, 19, and Rodena M. Warren, 17, both of 638 Broadway, Venice, and a 16-year-old juvenile girl.

The items from the gift shop reportedly were recovered from a trash can in a restroom into which one girl allegedly ran.

All three were released on notices to appear for court hearings at a later date.

Work on I-255 comes to standstill

Illinois Department of Transportation officials say they don't know how long it will be before construction continues on Interstate 255. The contractor, H.H. Hall Construction Company, has laid off workers and halted work on I-255 and other state highway projects.

IDOT district engineer Dale Kiohr told the Press-Record that the procedure for obtaining a new contracting company for the work is "quite lengthy." Hall Construction has turned over its five construction contracts on state highways to its bonding company, and the bonding company, Fidelity and Deposit Co. of Maryland, is responsible for selecting a new contractor and subcontractor, with IDOT's approval.

Hall's company was contracted to pave a five-mile section of I-255 south of Route 15 to just north of Dupu. Transportation officials consider the project crucial because of the traffic that is expected to travel the highway.

The other state contracts granted to Hall include reconstruction of a Route 111 bridge over Consolidated Railroad Co.'s tracks in Washington Park, paving a stretch of Hartman Lane near O'Fallon and the erection of two bridges near Breese. The construction contracts totaled $16.8 million.

Nameoki Township officials debate need for tax collectors

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

An otherwise quiet meeting of the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees Monday ended in arguments over the need for a tax collector in the township.

The debate began when Trustee Helen Hawkins announced to the board that she will be circulating petitions to abolish the tax collector's position county-wide. She hopes to collect enough signatures to put the question on the April ballot.

TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR Harry Briggs interrupted. "You're politicking right now. I'll speak for the board. We're not going to abolish the tax collector. I don't want to dispense with any office in the township."

Mrs. Hawkins countered, "When he (Nameoki Tax Collector Norman Hall) resigned, he indicated he had done the job he set out to do." Hall submitted a letter of resignation to the board in October and the board accepted his resignation, effective Feb. 28, 1985.

Mrs. Hawkins, addressing her comments to Hall, continued, "You said many times that you were going to end the dual system of tax collecting. I complimented you when you resigned your position. . . I still do and I think you ran (for collector) on that platform."

HALL AGREED that an Illinois Supreme Court decision barring county treasurers from collecting taxes in townships that had collectors until after Sept. 1 was a step in the right direction. But he argued against legislation that allows counties to keep five percent of the taxes collected for collection costs. Prior to that, the counties were allowed to keep approximately 2.5 percent.

Hall also contends that the new law, although it provides for faster distribution of tax monies to taxing bodies, does have a loophole which still allows counties to hold tax revenues for a maximum of 60 days before distributing the money to taxing entities. The law requires that counties distribute the tax monies to taxing bodies 30 days after tax payments are due. Taxpayers have 30 days prior to that to pay those bills, and many people, Hall says, pay those tax bills immediately.

"Our good friends on the county level were able to push through this bill," he told Mrs. Hawkins. "You said $14,000 is what we (the county) spend on collections. The new bill raises that. It can go up to $28,000. I opposed that bill. You're on the record as opposing that bill. I asked the township officials to oppose the bill, which they did."

HALL SAID THAT under the present system, the county could earn $48,000 on the taxes collected in Nameoki Township—through the percentage kept for collection costs and through interest earned on money held by the county prior to distribution. Hall bases that estimate on the amount of taxes he collected last year, or $2.2 million. "I'm still against dual collection, but first help us work to change this bill," he said.

Mrs. Hawkins answered, "When we are taxing the township people at the local level and the county level, that's wrong." She argued that the new law allows, not requires, counties to raise the amount of money they keep for tax collection costs. That doesn't mean, she said, that Madison County will raise its collection expenses from 2.5 percent of the taxes collected to 5 percent.

"But you can bet your bottom dollar they will," Hall countered.

MARLENE MILLER, a township resident in the audience, commented to Hall, "When you ran (for township collector), there must have been a misunderstanding. People thought that you were saying that we'd never have to elect another collector. We're spending money that doesn't need to be spent. Everybody knows how to put a stamp on an envelope. That's all it (paying taxes) requires, is a 20-cent stamp."

Following the meeting, Mrs. Hawkins told the Press-Record that she expects to begin circulating petitions "any time." She is waiting for attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith to finish drawing up the petitions. When Mrs. Hawkins begins the petition drive, she says, "I will concentrate on this more than on my election. I don't even know if I'll run again."

"I WISH THEY (township officials) would have helped me tonight," she added. "Mr. Hall ran on the platform to abolish the dual collection system. He's running on a ticket (in the April elections for trustee) in my precinct to defeat me. You see, to run on a full slate, you must include a collector (candidate)."

But Hall calls Mrs. Hawkins' petition drive "a political stunt. It undermines the democratic process that allows someone to run for the position of tax collector. All she has to do is run with a candidate who says he will abolish the tax collector and, if he's elected, there won't be a tax collector."

Return $3,757 to Venice in November court fines

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Venice police booted up their arrest record in November with a total of 75 traffic citations being issued. It was reported at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council. The aldermen were advised by Police Chief Farris Smith that a check for $3,757 was received by the city from Madison County Circuit Court Clerk Willard "Butch" Portell. The figure represents the amount of fines collected during the month.

A TOTAL OF 131 charges were filed during the month against 104 men and 20 women. Most concerned the traffic tickets, but 21 charges were filed for violation of city ordinance, the report stated.

In addition, 16 male juveniles and one female juvenile were booked on a total of 17 charges, including 15 city ordinance violations, the police chief said.

Some problems caused by large groups of young men gathering on Broadway late at night were noted by Second Ward Alderman George Mangiaracino, who reported receiving a telephone call from a Granite City resident complaining about youths.

ALSO SHOWING an increase last month was traffic across the McKinley Bridge in Venice. Bridge Manager Tom Fields said a total of 436,382 vehicles used the bridge in November, representing an average daily use of 14,553 vehicles.

The daily average showed an increase of 1,399 vehicles each day over the same period of time last year, he said.

MAYOR TYRONE Echols expressed appreciation to Mrs. Dorothy Griggs, who is helping to organize the new Crime Blockers program in Venice. The citizens' involvement group is planning to order decals and posters to be distributed to residents who are willing to participate in the project, it was reported.

Mayor Echols also announced that Christmas treats will be distributed to Venice youngsters from noon until 2 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 22, at the Venice City Garage on Klein Street. The event is an annual project financed by the city.

A SOLUTION currently is being sought by the Madison County Community Development staff to resolve some problems involving work performed by the contractor who constructed the new Venice Senior Citizens' Community Center, the mayor advised.

Most of the funds used to construct the center were provided through the CD agency. At a previous meeting, Mayor Echols informed the council that credit was not given in a final bill for some concrete work listed in the original agreement, but reportedly not accomplished.

No major lighting problems in the community were reported by the council to a representative of Illinois Power Co., who attended the meeting.

Street Supt. Tom Scaturro noted, however, that a guywire located in the middle of an alley in the 700 block of Brown Street is causing some concern, and Third Ward Alderman John Ervin asked that a malfunctioning streetlight be replaced near the north end of Klein Street.

Some credit will be allowed the city in connection with its telephone service, Mayor Echols reported. A previous agreement with Illinois Bell no longer applies, as the company no longer owns the instruments.

MAN TELLS POLICE HE IS VICTIM OF ARMED ROBBERY

Leroy Berry of East St. Louis, reported to police at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday that a man approached him with a shotgun and took his jacket. He described the man as fat and said he was wearing a jacket and had a cap on his head.

Berry had just left Garrett Sluggers Tavern, 337 Weaver Ave., when the incident occurred. Police are investigating.

STEAL TRUCK LIGHTS

An amber colored flashing light bar valued at $750 was stolen from the top of a tow truck, owned by Luther Wallace, while the vehicle was parked at Aaron's Auto Sales lot, 2805 E. 23rd St., he reported during the weekend.

ACTION GROUP MEETS

ty Township Supervisor Nelson "Nellie" Hagnauer will be seeking re-election.

In the assessor's race, which is being vacated by Cruse, there currently are four candidates. Those taking out petitions include: Nela Kelso, Earl Tucker, Arnold Spenneman and Jeanette Holder.

IN VENICE Township, no one has taken out a petition for any office.

In Chouteau, petitions have been taken out by Dudley Luebert, who has announced he is seeking the position of highway commissioner, and by Bill Chisenhall and Lindy McDaniel. Neither Chisenhall nor McDaniel has announced what position he will be seeking, but Chisenhall is an employee of the highway department and is believed to be seeking the highway commissioner's post. Neither were available for comment.

In Nameki Township, current officials and office hopefuls have joined to form a unified party in the 1985 election.

THOSE RUNNING, thus far, include: Supervisor Harry Briggs, Town Clerk David "Lee" Ridgeway, Highway Commissioner W. Lee Adams and Tax Assessor Carl Macios, all seeking re-election; Tax Collector Norman Hall, seeking a trustee position; Kenneth Davis, trustee candidate; Trustee Dell Whitsett, seeking re-election, and Steve Isenbarg, candidate for tax collector.

In Pontoon Beach, Ben McMillan is the only one to have taken a petition out for the three trustee positions that will be decided in April.

provide all support systems for the facility in terms of housekeeping, maintenance and accounting. With the exception of the management staff, all employees will be on the SEMC payroll and will follow their personnel policies and procedures.

APPROXIMATELY 30 percent of the square footage at the new site will be devoted to the out-patient treatment program and educational classrooms. Plans also are being made for an adolescent core unit.

Current plans are for Talbot Hall to remain at SEMC until 1986, when the new facility is opened. All mental health units, except the alcohol and chemical dependency programs, are expected to remain at SEMC after Talbot Hall is relocated.

St. John's Mercy was selected as a partner in the venture because its Hazelwood program "has the same philosophy as ours. Both are built on the 'Hegwood Model,'" according to Jinny Tuetken, public relations director for SEMC.

THAT MODEL concentrates on emotional support, physical and spiritual therapy, Alcoholics Anonymous support and follow-up care.

creases for legislators and other state officials. The raise package was backed by the Illinois Compensation Review Board.

ON A VOTE of 87-25, House members rejected the proposals. The Senate turned down the same proposal Tuesday.

The measure included a $4,500 pay raise for legislators and a $32,000 increase for the governor. With this week's action, state officials may not receive pay raises for another two years. Had the General Assembly taken no action on the pay package, the raises would have gone into effect automatically.

Gov. Thompson had supported the pay raises, but some legislators objected to the proposals because state officials would have received sizable increases.

Grassroots government

Upcoming meetings of Quad-City area governmental taxing bodies include:
Venice Park Board 7 p.m. today, Dec. 13, at Venice Recreation Center.
Venice School Board 7 p.m. Monday, Dec. 17, at 7th-Broadway.
Madison School Board (special meeting) 6:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 17, at 1707 Fourth St.

Postage rises to 22¢ on Feb. 17

The cost to mail a first-class letter will rise Feb. 17 to 22 cents, the Postal Service board of governors announced Wednesday.

The increase was recommended by the independent Postal Rate Commission, was voted on in closed session by the board of governors Tuesday and was announced yesterday.

LAST YEAR, the postal service recommended an increase to 23 cents in 1983, but low inflation was credited with the reduction to 22 cents. Postage last increased from 18 cents to 20 cents in November 1981.

In addition to the increase in first-class postage, post cards will rise a penny Feb. 17 to 14 cents each.

Driver flees scene, charged with DUI

A Maplewood man was arrested by Granite City police at 12:55 p.m. Tuesday, after he allegedly hit a pedestrian with his auto and then fled the scene.

Ronald G. Moore, 28, was charged by the Illinois State Police with driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs, leaving the scene of an injury accident and improper lane usage.

According to police reports, Little Thompson, 46, of East St. Louis, was working on his auto, which had been pulled off the roadway on Route 203 at Fourth Street near Madison. Moore's vehicle, which was northbound on Route 203, veered to the right and struck Thompson.

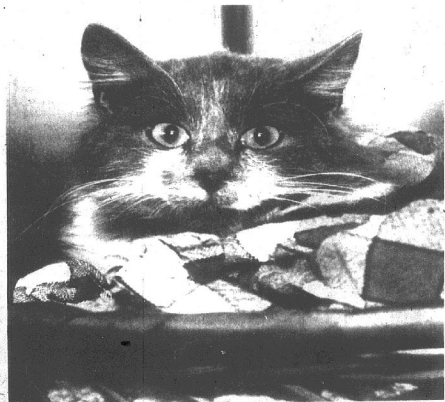

Thompson was transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance. He was admitted to the hospital with a fracture to his left pelvis.

Police were alerted to the accident and Moore's vehicle was spotted going east on Route 162 toward Route 111. A Pontiac Beach police sergeant set up a road block at Routes 162 and 111, but the vehicle went around the obstacle and up the overpass.

Granite City police stopped the vehicle on the north side of the overpass.

Moore agreed to take a breathalyzer test at the Granite City station, but declined to take a blood test.

Moore was released at 8:05 p.m. Tuesday on posting $404 cash bail.

Grants awarded to legal groups

Grants totaling $100,000 are being made to 18 Illinois organizations that provide legal services for the poor, including the Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation.

The donations are being made by the Lawyers' Trust Fund of Illinois. Land of Lincoln will receive $10,000.

The Lawyers' Trust Fund of Illinois was created in 1983 by action of the Illinois State Bar Association and the Chicago Bar Association. The Illinois Supreme Court amended its rules at that time to permit lawyers who hold nominal or short-term amounts of money in trust for clients to place those funds in pooled, interest-bearing accounts.

It is the interest earned on these trust accounts that is being used to fund legal services for the poor and will be used in the future for other law-related programs for the benefit of the public.

Getting your club's yule photograph in the paper

Due to the literally hundreds of special Christmas activities put on by clubs and organizations in the Quad City area, it is impossible for the Press-Record to assign photographers to all the events, but we will welcome timely and interesting photos taken by members of the organizations.

Most black and white or color photos, instant and regular, can be used in the newspaper. Space will limit the number which can be used, but every effort will be made to use the most interesting photos.

Basic rules for good photography include getting close enough so the subjects fill the frame, if the first photo comes out light or dark, take another one after making the appropriate lens adjustment and attempting to get some sort of action or emotion in the photo, rather than posing people in a line.

Photos, with appropriate identification of the people in the photos, may be brought to the Press-Record office, 1815 Delmar Ave., weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for consideration.

Of course, we will still accept requests for staff photographers to be at yule events, but hope the public understands that only a limited number of such assignments can be chosen.

No photos of Christmas events will be accepted after noon Monday, Dec. 31.

State fire marshal issues holiday safety tips

The Office of the State Fire Marshal has issued a list of do's and don'ts to help the public to keep this holiday season safe. The list offers a reminder of how to save lives and property from fire loss.

The first reminder comes about natural trees. According to the fire marshal, the tree should be fresh and should not be dyed green.

The needles on the tree should be supple and bend, but not snap. When bumped on the ground, only a few old needles should fall—a rain of needles indicates a dry, hazardous tree. The cut end should be sticky from sap.

Persons who wish to store their tree before decorating it, should keep the tree in a bucket of water in a cool place, away from heat and out of the wind.

Before setting up the tree, persons should cut off one inch from the bottom of the tree to improve water absorption. The tree should be set in a sturdy, non-tip stand. Guy wires may be used and needed for stability.

The tree should be kept away from candles, TV sets, fireplaces, open flames and heat vents. It should not be set up in or near an exitway.

Water should be added to the tree stand everyday. Plain water is best—absorption of other preparations may clog the trunk and prevent water absorption. When the needles are dry, the tree should be discarded.

Persons purchasing a plastic tree this Christmas should be sure it carries the label of an approved safety-testing agency.

Persons purchasing a metallic tree should use only indirect spot-lighting unless the tree has a built-in electrical unit with the label of an approved safety testing agency. Persons should not use decorative lights on a metallic tree.

When considering lights for the tree, persons should replace worn insulation, loose bulb sockets and broken plugs on sets. One should be sure all lighting sets are testing-agency approved and that they are using 15 ampere circuits.

One should be sure that all decorative lights are turned off before going to bed or leaving the house. A switch located away from the tree should be used for controlling the lights. Persons should not crawl under or around the tree for any reason.

Indoor lighting sets should not be used outdoors. Outdoor lighting sets, extension cords and fixtures should be testing-agency approved.

When buying decorations for the tree, persons should use only flame-retardant or non-combustible materials. One should not use untreated cotton batting, flocking, tissue paper or foam plastics on or about the tree. Gift wrapping and electrical toys should be kept away from the tree.

When heating the home, persons using liquid-fuel space heaters should be sure they are vented and have an adequate air supply. One should be sure that they are testing-agency approved and read and follow the manufacturer's instructions.

Persons should refuel the heater outside, where there's plenty of air. One should use the correct fuel only, which should be stored properly in a safe place. The space heater should be kept away from all combustible materials.

A smoke detector should be placed in the home if there isn't one already there. An escape plan should be prepared for the home. Babysitters should be instructed in fire emergency procedures.

If planning a party, persons should be sure to keep the exits clear. Large ashtrays should be provided and smoking materials should be disposed of in covered, metal waste containers.

The State Fire Marshal also suggests that local fire departments can be very helpful on all fire safety questions and problems. For more information, interested persons may write or call the Office of the State Fire Marshal, 3150 Executive Park Drive, Springfield, Ill., 62706, 1-217-782-7381.

2 Peter 1:5-6 "... add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness."

We understand that faith is the essential ingredient in our Christian walk. Without it we cannot please God. Nor can we appropriate special needs in our lives, such as healing for our bodies.

However, we dare not stop with just faith and expect to be what God wants us to be. We, in this is most important. We must add to our faith. We must grow in the Christian graces. Certainly we must maintain virtue. Faith and these graces do not go together. It is sad to never add to our knowledge, or to be short of patience. The result? A lack of godliness.

How blessed to know that it is in our power to be increased in God. We are in control of our Spiritual growth. It adds up for all of us. Let's do it. Today.

Bowler a candidate for GC mayor

Granite City Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, 41, became the third announced candidate for mayor of Granite City as he told those attending his birthday party that he will be a mayoral candidate in the April 1985 city election.

Previously announcing they are candidates are the incumbent, Paul Schuler, and Granite City Township Tax Collector Von Dee Cruse. Edward Jell had picked up candidate petitions, but has not made a formal announcement.

Bowler and his twin sister, Paula, addressed approximately 250 persons at their joint birthday party Monday night at the VFW Hall. Bowler noted, "I am running for the office of mayor because I am vitally concerned with the future growth of Granite City. In my eight years as a city alderman, I have learned firsthand the value of hard work and cooperation, not only in the private, but the public sector and I feel I can provide the leadership that is necessary."

"I have served as chairman of the finance committee, planning and zoning committee and, most recently, as chairman of the industrial research committee," Bowler said.

He noted that while he was chairman of those committees, Granite City attracted Heidtman Steel, Farrelly Corp., Granite City Pickling, Pre-Coat Metals, Affiliated Metals and has obtained a letter of intent for E.D. Cam, Inc., to locate here.

Bowler noted that he was the recipient of the Heidtman Steel appreciation award. "I believe this is an example of the type of leadership

I will bring to city hall," he said. "Only through the hard work and cooperation of the city aldermen, governmental agencies and private sector were we able to attract these businesses to our community. I pledge to continue providing the leadership necessary for economic growth and the future development of Granite City," Bowler added.

Bowler is a graduate of Granite City High School and has earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He is the president and owner of P.R.B. Enterprises.

HE IS THE son of Roger and Agnes Bowler, lifelong residents of Granite City. Roger Bowler was among those praising Paul Ray at the party.

The candidate concluded, "We need to begin solving our local problems in unemployment as well as our eroding tax base in Granite City. Let's make a beginning."

Eight hurt in fire truck-car collision

Eight persons sustained injuries at 9:45 p.m. Wednesday when an auto occupied by seven young people apparently collided with the side of a Granite City Fire Department teletype pumper truck.

GCFD Engineer James W. Pyle, 41, was traveling east on East 23rd Street, responding to an emergency call from the Tri-City Park Tabernacle, 3400 Marvill Road. As he approached the Nameoki Road intersection, Pyle told police the traffic signal lights changed from red to green. He heard a collision, but did not see the vehicle, which struck the truck's side, about the middle.

The pumper's red lights, opticon, air horn and warning siren were all activated at the time, Pyle said.

Robin M. Cochran, 16, of Collinsville, driver of a 1977 Cutlass sedan, which was southbound on Nameoki Road, was injured in the crash and was admitted to the intensive care unit at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, with contusions to the forehead and a possible head injury. Her condition today appears good, a hospital spokesman said.

Miss Cochran was unable to make a statement at the time of the initial report due to her physical and emotional state, officials noted. She was charged with failure to yield to an authorized emergency vehicle (fire truck) and was taken by a Madison resident to the medical center, reports said.

Five of the six girls in the Cochran auto were transported by Granite City Fire Department ambulances to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The injured were: Kimberly Cochran, 14, of Collinsville, also a patient in the hospital's ICU section. She suffered a fracture to the left leg, lacerations to the forehead and left leg and contusions to the right leg.

Kimberly underwent surgery last night. Although she was the most seriously hurt, her condition today appears to be good, SEMC reported.

Tracy L. Jackson, 14, of Collinsville, sustained abrasions and contusions to the face and lacerations to the neck and forehead; Misty Haline Parker, 15, of Collinsville, had contusions and abrasions to the legs and was being observed for a possible head injury.

Stacy Pryor, 14, of Edwardsville, had contusions to the forehead and lacerations to a forearm; and Brenda Brown, 13, also of Edwardsville, suffered contusions to the right leg and lacerations to the forehead.

The sixth girl, Cynthia Huffines, 14, of Edwardsville, who was taken to the hospital by the same Madison resident who took Robin Cochran, suffered multiple contusions and a laceration to the back of her head.

All of the girls were admitted at the medical center.

Robert M. Mink II, 37, a GCFD pipeman, who was on the truck, also was injured and was transported to the medical center in a police car. He was treated and released.

A power outage had tripped the fire alarm at Tri-City Park Tabernacle, destination of the fire truck, a department spokesman advised today.

Firm challenges NII's merger plan

Some stockholders of National Intergroup Inc. (NII), half-owner of National Steel Corp., have expressed dissatisfaction with NII's plans to sell half of NII to Bergen Brunswig Corp.

Leucadia National Corp. filed documents with the Securities and Exchange Commission that it "may seek to acquire control" of NII, according to yesterday's "Wall Street Journal." Leucadia, a life insurance and consumer finance company, holds and has options to acquire 6.3 percent of NII's 20.3 million outstanding shares.

OFFICIALS OF NII and Leucadia were to meet in New York this afternoon.

Leucadia said in the SEC filing that it might consider selling some NII assets if it takes over, the Wall Street Journal says.

Rites for stepmother of local resident

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. Monday, Dec. 10, at Kassidy Colonial Chapel in Fairview Heights for Mrs. Ann E. Coulson, 62, of Belleville, stepmother of Edward Coulson of Granite City.

She died Thursday, Dec. 6, 1984, at Memorial Hospital in Belleville.

Other survivors include her husband, Dick Coulson; one son, Bernard Nowak Jr., Long Beach, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Emily) Marx, Belleville, and Mrs. Larry (Barbara) Schetel of Lebanon; another stepson, Richard T. Coulson of Collinsville; a brother, Frank Rauch, and a sister, Dorothy Prather, both of Belleville; five grandchildren and five step-grandchildren.

Burial was in Lake View Memorial Gardens.

NII announced Oct. 4 that it planned to merge with Bergen Brunswig Corp. A week later, Leucadia bought 521,900 shares of NII stock and plans to acquire 888,100 shares, after a required waiting period, by exercising an option. Jefferies & Co., a brokerage firm which is affiliated to Leucadia now holds those additional shares, the newspaper says.

SOME dissatisfaction may be the result of the announced terms of the merger with Bergen Brunswig. NII stockholders are to receive stock valued at $10 a share, but NII's price per share now has climbed to just over that price.

An NII spokesman disagreed, saying this morning, "The merger is being negotiated at fair market value."

The spokesman added, "We continue to believe the merger negotiated with Bergen Brunswig is in the best interests of NII's stockholders. We expect to mail the proxy material for the special meeting to stockholders in the next few weeks for the meeting, which will be held early in 1985."

BATTERY IS ALLEGED

David B. Potts, 36, of 2816 Edgewood Ave., was arrested at his home last week for battery after his wife, Pamela, reported being struck. Her lip was swollen and bleeding and the area around her left eye also was swollen.

Utilities agree to plan to reconnect low-income customers

State Sen. Sam Vadalaabene announced Tuesday that the Illinois Commerce Commission has passed a resolution urging the reconnection of low income residences during the winter months, whose home energy sources had been previously disconnected due to non-payment of utility bills.

"ICC Chairman Philip O'Connor assured me that the major utility companies in Illinois have said they will adhere to the guidelines in the resolution," Vadalaabene (D-Edwardsville) said.

Vadalaabene said under the 12 Percent Affordable Reconnection Program, low-income residents who have had their gas or electricity discontinued due to non-payment could be reconnected.

"First, the applicant must pay 12 percent of any unpaid gas or electric bill and 12 percent of any reconnection fee. The person must also enter into a one-year budget level payment plan for service which will be provided in the coming year."

"The applicant must also agree to a two-year payment plan of 24 equal installments to pay all past due bills and show reasonable effort to apply for public energy assistance," Vadalaabene explained. The senator said under the 12 Percent Plan, "The utility must waive the deposit, which is normally required, if the applicant stays on the budget plan and deferred payment arrangement."

"The ICC is offering a workable solution to the problems low-income residents face during the winter months while giving the utilities recourse to receive past-due payments," Vadalaabene added. "This is a fair solution for all involved, and I encourage the ICC to continue in the direction of finding common ground for the consumer and the utility," he concluded.

Novosel retiring, Luebbert seeking highway post

Steve Novosel, 48, an eight-year Chouteau Township trustee, Monday night, announced his decision to retire from the public office.

"I have served eight years on the board and with increased schedules at work, I have decided not to seek re-election," Novosel said.

He added, "However I would like to cite some of the programs this current board of trustees have initiated and completed, which includes the mosquito spraying project, blacktopping of Veronica Street and sponsoring Christmas and Halloween parties for the residents of the township."

"I do intend to support Dudley Luebbert in his bid for Chouteau Township Highway Commissioner in the April 2 election," he commented. Novosel is employed as foreman at Olin Corp., where he has worked for 25 years.

Luebbert, a resident of Hartford, and a member of the Chouteau Township board for eight years, announced his candidacy for highway commissioner Monday night.

He was born in Granite City and attended schools in Hartford and East Alton. An operating engineer for Local 520, Luebbert is a member of the Hartford Civic League and Wood River Moose Lodge 1349.

Luebbert also is treasurer of the Hartford Volunteer Fire Department and chairman of the Madison County Political Action Committee for Local 520.

He has been a precinct committeeman for Chouteau Precinct Three and last election ran on the United Township party slate.

As of today, those who have picked up independent petitions for candidacy in the April 2 election include Luebbert as an independent can-

Judge to consider motion to dismiss murder charges

Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill will consider a motion to dismiss murder charges against Barbara Gusewelle Boyle at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 18, in Edwardsville.

The motion was filed last week by Mrs. Boyle's defense attorneys, Frederick Steiger and Daniel Patrick Leonard. It alleges that misconduct by the prosecution has prevented Mrs. Boyle from obtaining a fair trial.

SPECIFICALLY, the defense attorneys claim in the motion that the prosecution failed to present evidence supporting Mrs. Boyle's innocence to the grand jury which indicted her, had "improper contact" with the grand jury foreman and other jury members, presented "improper and extraneous" evidence to the grand jury and violated the secrecy of grand jury proceedings by leaking evidence to the press and public.

In addition, the defense attorneys charge that the state's attorney's office and the U.S. attorney's office for Southern Illinois deprived Mrs. Boyle of her right to extradition hearings when she was returned to Illinois under federal charges of mail fraud. Those federal charges have been dismissed at the request of the U.S. attorney's office.

The "extraordinary delay" between the alleged offenses and the return of the indictments was "unreasonable and unjustified," the motion contends. Those delays, defense attorneys say, have prejudiced Mrs. Boyle's defense.

MRS. BOYLE, 42, of Glen Carbon, was arrested in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., on Aug. 10, the day after the grand jury indicted her on murder and murder conspiracy charges for the Nov. 3, 1977 slayings of Arthur and Vernita Gusewelle in their rural Edwardsville home. She also is charged with the March 31, 1979, murder of her husband, Ronald Gusewelle. The conspiracy charges have been dropped against her.

Also charged with the murders are Dr. Glennon E. Engleman and Roberty Handy, who allegedly participated in a murder-for-profit scheme in which the Gusewelles would be killed so that the three could share the insurance and inheritance money.

Judge O'Neill has denied a request from Mrs. Boyle's defense attorneys that they be allowed to send prospective jurors a questionnaire regarding the case. O'Neill ruled that there is no precedent in the state which allows the use of questionnaires, and he indicated that the use of the questionnaires may lead potential jurors to disqualify themselves from the case.

THE DEFENSE attorneys argued that the questionnaires were to be used to determine whether potential jurors in Madison County have been influenced by the publicity surrounding the Gusewelle murders.

Mary Pashoff: At one time one of the best

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

Funny thing about mothers and grandmothers. Both are extremely proud of their children, but even more so of the feats of their grandchildren, particularly, if it's a grandson.

Mary (Carl) Pashoff, whose ability with a bowling ball over a lengthy career, brought fame and distinction to both herself and Granite City, was being interviewed about her long and illustrious bowling career. But she was radiant with pride over the fact that the son of one of her twin daughters, Judy, had played a key role in his college's soccer team's fourth-place national finish last week at Fresno, Calif., in the N.A.A. tournament.

As a defender on the Park College team of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Pashoff's grandson, Shawn Patrick French, played a crucial role in stopping a high-scoring Rockhurst College eleven in a district playoff game, upsetting the Hawks, 1-0.

The victory avenged an earlier loss to Rockhurst and earned them a trip to California.

At long last, the interview switched back to Mary Pashoff and her sensational prowess on St. Louis area bowling lanes up until she retired about four years ago.

She first grabbed national attention by registering the first perfect, 300-game (up to that time) at the "Pla-Mor Lanes" (in downtown Granite City) on April 8, 1967. For that outstanding bit of athletic ability, Mrs. Pashoff was featured on Bud Collier's national TV show, "What's My Line" in New York City in 1961. She turned pro in 1965 and competed throughout the United States in singles tournaments. She was ranked nationally in the top 10 for two years.

There are two other things in her bowling career that she is more proud of than that first 300 game: Probably the No. 1 accomplishment on the bowling lanes was the 1401-pin total she and her partner, Mary Holtschaw, racked up in doubles competition in 1967. "That 1401 total of mine and Mary's is still No. 3 highest in the entire U.S.," she states proudly.

The second high point in her career, she says: "I was prouder of the 12 700-plus series I racked up over all the years, than I am of that perfect game."

The goal of every standout women's bowler in the past 30 years was to be picked to be a member of the Kutsis team of St. Louis. Annually she was chosen to bowl on the Kutsis squad. The Kutsis were featured throughout the U.S. and the top six women on the team were: Captain Doty (nee Schmidt) Baker, Mary Holtschaw, Pat McMaster, Ruth Murphy, Gaylene Jacobs and, of course, Mary Pashoff.

Mrs. Pashoff went out of her way to point out that another Quad City area woman bowler, Dot McMullen of Madison, also bowled a perfect 300-pin game. It was in 1967.

Mrs. Pashoff didn't take up the game of bowling until after she was married.

Her husband finally talked her into trying her hand at the game. "We were up at Wood River and finally Mary said she'd try it. I placed her right on the foul line."

She says now: "Man, I felt really stupid, but I made up my mind that they wouldn't laugh at me anymore."

She added: "I went to the lanes downtown the next day and asked the Thursday Night league's secretary, Mildred Smith, for her help."

"Mildred, who had seen me fumbling around and trying, no doubt to be kind to me and not hurt my feelings, told me frankly that I would be wasting my time trying to learn to bowl."

Frowning, she pointed out that Mrs. Smith's reaction was just the thing calculated "to make me try to show her that she was wrong."

"It was hooked," she added.

At this point, her husband, whose game is golf, but who is frankly very proud of his lovely spouse's feats on the bowling lanes, said: "Within a very short time, she was regularly beating me and, for that matter, still does."

A little oddity about Mrs. Pashoff's perfect 300-game Tuesday night, she and her teammates on the Clerical Pool team, still lost two games to the M. C. Slater team. Her perfect game, which came in the middle of the three games, Her leadoff game was a lowly 176 effort, then the 300 and then she finished with 106 for a 671 total. At that time, the 671 series was the second highest in her 15-year career to that point. Her high was 689.

At the time of the perfect game, she was supervisor of office services for the Dow Chemical Company and her twin daughters were 10 years old.

The twins now are 38 and both are married.

BEST BOWLER. Above, Mrs. Mary Pashoff stands in front of some of the many trophies she won during her illustrious bowling career. At left, she was presented with a bouquet of roses in 1963 after she was named Women Bowler of St. Louis. Making the presentation was Fred Johnson, then president of the St. Louis Bowling Congress.

In Collinsville Grapplers down Kahoks, 39-20

By JIM SCHLUETER
for the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE. The Granite City High School wrestling team contributed to a double, old-fashioned whipping of the Kahoks Tuesday night at the Collinsville High School gym.

Portz knew his team would not face any tougher opponent than Collinsville's Chris Greer. Collinsville's Justin Cassidy, Greer was much smaller than the massive Cassidy, but he continued his hot streak by pinning Tracy McElroy in 43 seconds.

The rest was Granite City except for a 4-4 tie at heavy weight between Collinsville's Chris Greer and Granite City's Justin Cassidy. Greer was much smaller than the massive Cassidy, but he continued his hot streak by pinning Tracy McElroy in 43 seconds.

By then, Warrior Coach Bill Schmitt will hope perhaps some of his injured regulars will have returned to the lineup without Granite City is undefeated, Schmitt has injuries, not the unbeaten streak, foremost in his mind.

"We've been hanging on by the skin of our teeth with all of the injuries we've had," Schmitt said. "A makeshift lineup keeps you on pins and needles."

But the Kahoks were in the same predicament, and when CHS was unable to take advantage of its lower-weight strength, Granite City forfeited at 98 and 112 pounds offset Kahok Jay Austin's 20-second pin of James Moss at 105.

And while Eric Brooks scored a late reversal and near-fall to post a thrilling 8-4 Kahok win at 119, Warrior Brett Carner whipped Jim Mikub 17-6 at 126 and Mike Lewis dominated Steve Vogt 19-5 at 132 to give the Warriors a 21-9 lead.

DON PEER posted another exciting victory at 138, where he scored a reversal with 19 seconds left to beat Jon Morgan 13-11 in an acrobatic match. But the only other CHS victory came at 185, where Billy Wiley continued his hot streak by pinning Tracy McElroy in 43 seconds.

Scott Balma in 4:22 at 145). Schmitt was also impressed with the progress of the Kahok wrestling program.

"Collinsville had some good kids in there. I don't think we blew any of them out," Schmitt said. "They weren't humiliated in anyway."

And just to be able to stay in a match with Granite City showed Portz that he is making big strides in the four years he has coached the Kahoks. While teams such as Granite City and Roxana can boast lofty records, Portz has more realistic goals, such as breaking the school's victory record of 14.

"We're still ahead of schedule (the Kahoks are 5-5). We're on track for a 14-win season," Portz said. "We faced plenty of sectional qualifiers and we battled. We didn't give up."

Hockey Action

Warrior skaters devastate Fox-Arnold; get eighth win

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City High School club hockey team not only won the war against Fox High School Monday night at the Wilson Park Ice Rink, but also the battle.

The Warriors trounced Fox 12-1, before another large home gathering. That was the war. The triumph upped the still unbeaten Warriors to 8-0. Warrior Coach Harry Henson was pleased with the result. Indeed, the Warriors set 27 shots at the Fox goal while allowing just eight shots on their own net. Needless to say, the Warriors dominated play.

"WE CONTROLLED the puck. We did whatever we wanted to do the first part," Henson said.

The first part of the game saw the Warriors coast to a commanding 9-1 lead. That was in the second period. They led 4-0 at the close of the first period.

It was in the second period when the battle broke out, and the Warriors won that, too. Henson, though, was disappointed. The battle, you see, took the form of extremely physical play. Eighteen penalties were called, 11 against the Warriors.

Henson said he believes it was a case of Fox becoming extremely frustrated, and taking out their anxieties in overly rough play. What Fox handed out in rugged contact, the Warriors handed right back and more.

"They got rough and we got a little rougher," said Henson, who noted, "I think we lost our composure."

Henson pointed out that he instructs his players to maintain composure and discipline because he believes that is what wins hockey games.

But he said he thought, "We kind of lost it."

THE LOSS of composure could have had an adverse effect. Several times the Warriors played short-handed, including occasions when they were shy two players because of penalties. Fox's lone goal came when the Warriors' were short-handed with a player in the penalty box.

Loss of composure, or not, the Warriors never lost track of the Fox net. Leading 9-1 after the second period, the Warriors struck for three unanswered goals in the third period.

Chris Carden led the goal bombardment with four tallies. Terry Wade and Todd Hensler each scored two goals. Doug Suss, Steve Stegmeyer, Bill Moore and Dave Wilmouth each had one tally.

BESIDES his two goals, Hinterser also chalked up three assists. Mark Doniff and Matt Laub, who play left and right wing respectively on the line centered by Carden, each had two assists. Lee Schreiber, Bill Moore and Steve Stegmeyer each had one assist.

The Warriors next "war" at the Wilson Park Ice Rink is Monday night. The opponent is Lindbergh, who is expected to give the Warriors perhaps their toughest match to date.

SIUE Basketball

Quincy hands women second loss

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — It was bound to happen.

Going into last Monday night's game, the women's basketball team of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville had a near-perfect season going.

Coach Wendy Hedberg's SIUE cagers had racked up a 5-1 record and could easily have been undefeated except for a freak one-point loss to the Kangaroos of the University of Missouri, Kansas City in last week's championship final of the Converse Cage Classic.

But, Monday night the Hawkettes of Quincy College, themselves unbeaten in four games, came here to the Sam Vadalabene Gym and romped over, in fact, embarrassed the Kangaroos, 66-51.

Up until the Quincy invasion, Hedberg's women had been very successful in solving the zone defense which, apparently, most girls' cage teams now employ. The Hawkettes, however, threw a sagging, collapsing defense at the Cougars and the SIUE players, plus their coaching staff, couldn't figure out to handle.

Although the game, the Cougar guards vainly attempted to pass the ball over the heads of the Quincy defensive players. But, without success. In fact, they lost the ball 12 times in the first half without even getting a shot at the basket. And, as a consequence, they trailed at the intermission, 31-20, with no doubt that Quincy had wrapped up.

Meanwhile, Quincy's little guard, Kay Pothast, kept popping them in from 15 to 20 feet out to contain the Cougars whenever they threatened to pull up close. She ended up with 14 points, just one short of Barbie Drew's 15 for SIUE.

SIUE's 28 turnovers to 15 for Quincy really tells the story.

Tomorrow night, along with the men's team, SIUE will be at Cape Girardeau for a pair of games against Southeast Missouri State. The women's game tips off at 5:30 and the men at 7:30.

In Girls' Basketball Assumption dampens GCHS' debut

By JOE THOMPSON
for the Press-Record

EAST ST. LOUIS — The Granite City High School girls basketball team made its debut performance of the 1984-85 season Monday night. Like a Broadway play, this "opening night" had its moments.

The final score wasn't one of them, however. The Warriors lost, 38-20, to Assumption in a contest played at Assumption.

There was excitement. For that, however, it's a show of might. This, you see, was an athletic event and the Pioneers featured a forward line that included a 6-1 center. Tammy Tighe, after a 5-10 power (emphasis on the word power) forward in Akila Moody.

Early into the second half, the Warriors' Debbie Brandt attempted a shot from in close when, whizzing through the air came the right hand of Moody. She caught the ball flush, sending it screaming toward the steelies. It was an NBA block. Brandt, for one, was left in awe.

"I NEVER saw anything like that before," Brandt told her friends during an intermission.

Brandt has seen quite a lot of basketball during her career. A senior, Brandt is the Warriors only returning starter from last season. She said she has had shots blocked

Let's return to the varsity game. During an anxious moment in the second half, attention turned away from the game to one of the two officials. He had lost his balance as he scooted backwards while facing the play coming upcourt.

THE OFFICIAL fell (kerplunk) on his backside, and the momentum of his backward run sent him still on the seat of his trousers — several feet down the floor. The crowd cheered, then roared with laughter.

There was, alas, a show of might. This, you see, was an athletic event and the Pioneers featured a forward line that included a 6-1 center. Tammy Tighe, after a 5-10 power (emphasis on the word power) forward in Akila Moody.

Early into the second half, the Warriors' Debbie Brandt attempted a shot from in close when, whizzing through the air came the right hand of Moody. She caught the ball flush, sending it screaming toward the steelies. It was an NBA block. Brandt, for one, was left in awe.

"I NEVER saw anything like that before," Brandt told her friends during an intermission.

Brandt has seen quite a lot of basketball during her career. A senior, Brandt is the Warriors only returning starter from last season. She said she has had shots blocked before, "but not like that," she exclaimed.

In short, the Warriors played a terrific floor game, forcing the Pioneers into numerous turnovers. However, Brandt at forward, and Loretta Cox at center, never could get the Warriors' inside game going. Several times Brandt and Cox attempted to work the ball inside for a shot in close but were fouled by their taller opponents.

THE WARRIORS, who never led during the game, had better success outside. Karen Sykes and Alicia Mellon both tallied eight points, mostly on shots from outside. Brandt also scored eight points while Cox was limited to two points.

"We've got a long way to go," Warrior coach Gordon Galbreath said.

Without question, however, the way will get brighter for the Warriors. They were victimized by a malady that sometimes plagues opening performances — bad luck.

Time and time again the Warriors fired shots at the basket, only to have them just miss. Several times the ball hung on the lip of the rim, before rolling off.

INDEED, only 14 of their 44 shots fell through, a dismal 31 percent accuracy.

Now 2-2 Stars' matmen split

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — It's pretty difficult winning wrestling matches when a third of your squad is sidelined because of injuries, but that's just what the Stars did Tuesday night as they hosted both Forest Park Community College and Blackburn College in a triangular meet.

No, the Stars didn't beat nationally ranked Forest Park in their head-to-head matchup, but they did manage to score a victory against Blackburn to remain an even 2-2 on the season. Granite City dropped its first matchup of the evening to 12th rated Forest Park 5-6, but then came back to down the Blackburn Beavers of Carlinville 36-12.

AS EXPECTED, the Highlanders went home with a perfect 2-0 record for the evening and are now 3-0 overall this season after posting a 38-12 victory over Meramec Junior College last week. The Stars, as mentioned, are 2-2 while Blackburn, after Tuesday's action, fell to 3-3 this year.

"If we ever get everybody back we're going to be a good wrestling team," said Stars coach Walt Whitaker. "But that still be as much as a month away."

With three of his nine grapplers on the sideline because of injuries, Whitaker appears to be happy with the Stars record thus far and is eagerly awaiting the arrival of January when he expects some of his athletes to return to the lineup.

"We're hoping that when we come back on Jan. 5 to meet Meramec we'll be in a little better shape. Forest Park is tough enough without having to give up the forfeitures as well," Whitaker said.

The Stars' forfeitures Tuesday came at heavyweights 190, 177 and 118 pounds. Missing from Tuesday's lineup because of injuries were heavyweights Brian Miller who recently underwent arthroscopic surgery on his right knee, Chuck Hayden (190 pounds) and Greg Nemeth (142 pounds).

Hayden has a fractured left knee cap while Nemeth is recovering from a concussion he sustained in the same automobile accident that caused the sidelining of Hayden.

A FOURTH Star who Whitaker hopes to get into the lineup in January is Mark Dowdy, a former standout for Granite City High School. Dowdy is not injured, but because of commitments, has been unable to wrestle this fall.

"We're hoping that Mark will be able to wrestle in our next match with Meramec. His addition to the team will be quite a help," Whitaker said.

Still, even with the ailments, the Stars didn't wrestle that badly considering the opposition.

Although they were blown out by highly touted Forest Park, the Stars wrestled well, most notably Chuck Gardner at 126 pounds and Darren Lindsey at 158 pounds.

EACH picking up victories, Gardner and Lindsey both overcame point deficits to eventually win their matches against Forest Park.

Against Forest Park's Sam Cribb, Gardner fell behind 3-0 15 seconds into the second period before making his comeback.

EACH picking up a minute remaining in the second period, Gardner managed to escape to a neutral position to close the point spread to two, 3-1.

Then, in the third period, he continued his comeback, scoring again as he escaped and then managed to score a takedown to eventually win 4-3.

"CHUCK'S really one of our finest," Whitaker said after the Forest Park matchup. "A sophomore, he's probably our best shot at qualifying someone for the Nationals. He'll probably go down to 118 (118) lbs."

Gardner just missed qualifying for the national meet last year as a GCC freshman. In his second match Tuesday, against Blackburn, Gardner scored a pin in 2:29.

As far as Lindsey is concerned, Whitaker was both praising and critical.

"He's a fine wrestler when he wants to be. If he'd get out there and wrestle half the entire three periods we wouldn't have to say anything to him. But, yes, he does have a tendency to wait to the late minutes of the match to wrestle hard."

WRESTLING against Forest Park's George Hovis, Lindsey trailed the entire match 1-0 before scoring a scoring a flurry to eventually take a 5-1 victory just seconds before the bout ended.

Against Blackburn, Lindsey jumped to a 15-3 lead and never looked back, eventually pinning Murrell Stark in 5:39. Gardner and Lindsey were the Stars' only double winners of the evening.

Ken Paterson, who wrestles 150 pounds for the Stars, picked up a big victory over his Blackburn opponent, Bob Baser, 23-6, before he was awarded the victory by virtue of a 15-point lead.

Well, here it is.

The process is simple and takes less than two hours. The seasoning can be varied, letting you try for taste rather than extended shelf life.

When properly finished, the jerky is reasonably tender, lasts well and tastes good — and it's a lot easier on the pocketbook than the arm and a leg you pay for commercial jerky. Furthermore, with a little care and extra step or two, you can also make honest-to-goodness old-fashioned pemmican.

For proper curing, the meat should be cut in strips about a quarter of an inch thick. Tough cuts of meat may be cut across the grain. Tender portions should be stripped or cut with the grain. If you have pemmican in mind, cut across the grain only.

After cutting, boil the meat strips for five minutes or so in a solution of salt, vinegar and spices. Wild game cannot be trusted to be free of trichina and other dangerous organisms, and a brief cooking in this solution is a necessary safeguard.

Two quarts of water, ½ pint of vinegar, two cups of salt, and two tablespoons of pepper make a proper solution. This quantity of brine is adequate for up to 10 pounds of meat.

Next, the strips are rolled flat with a rolling pin or squeezed "dry" with hand pressure. This removes excess brine and flattens the strips for quick, uniform drying. Note the color of the juices pressed from the meat during the rolling process. A red color indicates that the meat has not boiled long enough. With a little practice you can determine the minimum boiling time for your thickness of cut. The jerky at this point should have a gray-brown color and somewhat rubbery texture.

When the strips have been rolled, align them on the oven rack allowing space between for air circulation. Set the oven on "warm" or 200 degrees. Keep the oven door cracked to allow moisture to escape. Remove the meat when it is almost dry. The strips should crack but not break when bent.

The drying process usually takes about an hour and a half but may vary with your particular oven. After your strips are dried they are laid out for final seasoning. Al Edwards has soaked "pemmican" both sides of the jerky with A-1 Sauce really tops off the flavor. The dry meat soaks up the sauce in seconds. If your taste runs to hotter flavors apply some Worcestershire Sauce or Tabasco. Or try a mixture of ketchup and vinegar.

Edwards suggests seasoning parts of the batch differently, leaving some of it unseasoned, if desired. For more flavor, paint the meat again. The finished product can be stored in fruit jars or plastic sacks. Keep dry, it will last for years.

To make pemmican, simply crush some of the cross-cut jerky it crumbles easily — then mix an equal amount of some favorite berries and grind up the works. Cranberry makes a great addition to the taste.

Edwards says the recipe is great with beef as well as venison.

Classic Matchup It's too early for Madness

It's only December, but it sure seemed like March. Something right out of the pages of the Illinois High School Association record books, particularly those pages which record the basketball playoffs, also known as March Madness.

The "it" I'm referring to is that classic of matchups all season long: The Madison vs. Venice basketball game. This year, it was Venice's turn to host the Classic. This year the game was last Saturday night. This year Venice won. In overtime, no less.

But aside from claim to local bragging rights, the winner of the game, most often, gets the top seed in the regional which begin in late February and leads the other in local and metro area polls.

Tickets for the game, which pits these nearest of rivals, went on sale the day before the game, on Friday at both high schools. And, as usual, the game was a sellout.

It was a game to see. And there probably won't be another one like it until March when the playoffs swing around.

Venice's tiny gymnasium was cramped — literally filled to the rafters. The sidelines were jammed. The stage at the south end of the gymnasium was packed with extra seating. And the exits were clogged with standees, all rooting for their team.

As if the game wasn't close enough, Venice made a run at the Trojans with four minutes remaining and eventually went on to win in overtime. Eleven points ahead midway through the fourth quarter, the Trojans appeared to change their game plan — they became conservative.

Normally, that wouldn't have had the effect that it did on the outcome, but it's not the kind of thing you do against Venice.

The Red Devils came back and clinched the victory and with it the local bragging rights.

The thing that made the game was that not Venice won and Madison lost, but THAT comeback. Oh, how a crowd loves to see a team spring back from an apparent defeat and go on to win its way to victory.

This was that kind of game.

It featured fine shooting, quickness, rebounding, defensive strategy, good coaching and above all excellent sportsmanship and great competition.

But then that's what makes March what it is. Thanks Madison and Venice for a little taste of March in December.

The hunting column I did two weeks ago brought a lot of positive response. Despite it not-so-good beginning, it ended on a high note.

One comment by Al Edwards, one of the union printers here at the Press-Record, was that he liked it, but that too we should follow up with an article telling people how to make two-hour venison jerky.

Well, here it is.

The process is simple and takes less than two hours. The seasoning can be varied, letting you try for taste rather than extended shelf life.

When properly finished, the jerky is reasonably tender, lasts well and tastes good — and it's a lot easier on the pocketbook than the arm and a leg you pay for commercial jerky. Furthermore, with a little care and extra step or two, you can also make honest-to-goodness old-fashioned pemmican.

Remain Undefeated Devils edge Explorers in OT

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

ALTON — The Venice Red Devils were forced into overtime Tuesday night, but they hung on to beat Alton Marquette 58-52.

Marquette utilized strong defensive rebounding and a patient, deliberate offense to slow the pace of the game and give the Red Devils fits.

"We did everything we wanted to do except win," said Explorer coach Mike Waldo. "We worked for free throws and layups. We wanted to control the tempo — take the air out of it."

The Explorers not only took the air out of the ball, they squashed it. Using a 1-2-1 zone defense, Marquette forced the Devils to shoot outside, and when Venice missed, there was bound.

"WE DID a good job of blocking out," Waldo said. "They're (Venice) good leapers and we're not. It's hard on you blocking out for 35 minutes.

Late in the game we let them get a few offensive rebounds. It could have been fatigue."

The Red Devils didn't look fatigued, but at times they did appear to be sleeping. Marquette burned Venice several times on backdoor plays, as the Explorer offense was content to hold the ball until it found the open man.

"They were getting easy layups, and we didn't get any weakside help at all," said Red Devil coach Clinton Harris. "We played silly, stupid. We took bad shots and made silly reaching fouls. We came out with a win, but we played poorly."

VENICE led 26-21 at the half, but the Red Devils were playing Marquette's game. The Explorers dominated the backboards, holding Venice to just one shot on many occasions.

In the third quarter it was more of the same. Only now, the Devils were missing shots that they hit in the first half. Venice managed a mere six points in the third period, while the Explorers, taking their first lead in the contest, scored 12 to step in front 53-32.

The lead changed hands four times in the fourth quarter. Venice's defense became more aggressive, making steals and causing several Marquette turnovers, but the Explorers still led 46-45 with 20 seconds remaining.

RED DEVIL Darren Wynn canned the second of two foul shots to knot the score at 46, but Marquette's Todd Zinn went to the line to shoot the bonus with 14 left on the clock. Zinn missed, and the game went into overtime.

In the overtime period, Venice came to life. The Red Devils outboarded Marquette and displayed the type of defense that helped them defeat Sumner, East St. Louis Lincoln, Lebanon and Madison. During that three-minute span, Venice outscored Marquette 12-6, as the Devils played just well enough to win 58-52.

"We didn't shoot free throws, we didn't play defense, and we didn't screen out on the boards," said Har-

4 Good reasons to use the St. Elizabeth Medical Center Maternity Guaranteed Rate Program

- CARE While in the hospital, new mothers can attend daily classes designed to help make the transition from pregnancy to parenthood more pleasant. Taught by highly trained obstetric nurses who are sensitive to the needs of both mother and baby, these classes provide the skills necessary to care for newborns, as well as some special ideas on how mothers can care for themselves. Another option available through this program is SEMC's new birthing room. A new concept in childbirth, the birthing room allows prospective parents to share the birthing process within a family centered environment. The birthing room is designed with many home-like features including ruffled curtains (looking out on a picturesque forest scene) and a beautiful oak bed and matching cradle.
- COST A prepaid delivery package, the Maternity Guaranteed Rate Program provides individuals with access to better health care, while at the same time lowering costs. Compared to other delivery packages, the Maternity Guaranteed Rate Program is 30 percent less than other conventional maternity plans. The program also provides expecting parents with advanced knowledge regarding this financial liability and a means of paying delivery costs before the baby's arrival. Before entering the hospital, however, the guaranteed rate must be paid in full to be eligible for this low cost program.
- HOSPITALIZATION All physicians are board certified, and compared to other area hospitals, SEMC is centrally located and just minutes from any Metro-East city. Depending on which plan you choose, mothers can expect only a 2 or 3-day hospital stay.
- SERVICES Besides the standard services received during the birth of a child, pre-natal classes, for both parents, and a follow-up visit from the obstetrical nursing staff are included in the cost of this program. If you have not yet decided on an obstetrician and would like some assistance, call SEMC's Physician Referral at 798-3013.

Beta Eta meets at Collinsville Hilton

Sixty-two members and guests of Beta Eta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society met during the weekend at the Collinsville Hilton Inn.

President Diane Funkhouser announced that the report of the visitor from the state organization, based on her attendance at the November meeting, was very complimentary. The visitor's final comment on the chapter's activities was that the chapter would serve as a good example for other chapters.

A sit-down breakfast was enjoyed by everyone. Each table, set for 10 persons, featured an unusual handmade centerpiece. Calico and Christmas print were used to make the Santas, dolls, trolls, reindeer, clowns, small churches, and baskets filled with seasonal greenery. Individual favors of red apple ornaments were at each place setting.

The chapter made plans to send floral Christmas greetings to Misses Nelle Hart and Eva Renfro, chapter members who are now residing in area nursing homes.

Mrs. Valerie Stevens, a music teacher in the Madison Schools, announced that the day's program was designed to satisfy all persons regardless of their musical interests.

Amerik Kachigian, a Granite City attorney, sang "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Climb Every Mountain," and "O Holy Night."

Mrs. Frieda Widdows, also from Granite City, sang "One Day at a Time," and "Just a Closer Walk With Thee," with the audience joining in on the chorus of the second song.

Miss Ginger Booker, from Madison, and a student at Marquette in Alton, sang "Bless the Beasts and the Children," "Home," and "Ordinary People."

The fourth section of the program was presented by 24 students from the Madison Schools. Most of the students were third-graders at Harris School, with a few first- or second-graders, but one student was from Blair School.

Third-grader Zachary Hicks served as the announcer for the group. Tiny Cynthia Stucke, clad in a flowered dress, a red picture hat, and a fur cap, sang and danced to the music of "Second-Hand Rose."

The group sang "Santa's Coming Tonight" complete with a costumed Santa Claus and an elf, and "The Robot March" with two students portraying the robots.

Their next song, "O Christmas Tree," was dedicated to Miss Jean Trogdon, a German-language teacher at Roxana High School, and the students sang part of it in German.

"Christmas Love," a new song, stressed that the children did not need Cabbage Patch dolls, Mickey Mouse watches, Tinker Toys, or any highly advertised product; they would settle for trees, lights, snow, friends, and love.

Blair School student, Joi Woodfork, imitated Michael Jackson, complete with the white glove and sequins, and his break dancing. "The Good Ship Lollipop" and "Have a Holly Jolly Christmas" were also sung by the group. As the group closed the program with "We Wish You a Merry Christmas" Santa and the elf handed everyone a peppermint candy.

Members attending from the local area were Marguerite Connelie, Joyce Tracy, Vivian Dine, Georgia Engelke, Linda Givens, Jean Hall, Nancy Rainer, Mary Sue Harper, Helen Purkale, Virginia Oram, Barbara Williams, Jerrylene Lyne, Joanne Higgins, and Martha Jean Hayes.

Christmas gifts brought by all of the members for their "adopted" friends at the Troy Professional Care Home were collected to be taken to the home in a group.

Christmas Candlelight Choral at St. John Lutheran

Charles-Marie Widor's "Toccata-Gloria," a festive anthem based on the Toccata from Symphony No. 5 for organ, will be the opening hymn of praise at the 23rd annual Christmas Candlelight Choral service, Sunday, at St. John Lutheran Church, 2601 St. Clair Ave.

Organist for the Widor Toccata and for all other numbers will be Mrs. Antia Childs, of St. Louis. She is a graduate of Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., and is also a member of the American Guild of Organists. (Her husband serves as Seminary student-assistant at St. John Lutheran Church and also sings in the church choir.) The church choir will sing the choral part of the Widor work in the balcony and will play the part of "angels" announcing the Christmas news to the worshippers seated below in the nave of the church. The choir will then proceed from the balcony in candlelight procession throughout the church sanctuary, singing Christmas hymns and carols.

The procession will lead them to the steps of the chancel from which the choir will sing "The Joy of Christmas," a blend of 11 Christmas carols, put together by Van Denman Thompson. "Ding Dong! Merrily on High," a setting by Gwilym Beechey, will follow.

All the congregation will join the choir in the singing of many familiar Christmas hymns and carols throughout the service. At one point, all the lights will be put out — except the light of a large, overhead lighted Herrn-Huter Moravian Star, which will shine on the nativity scene immediately below, in the chancel area. The congregation and choir will then sing carols — by "Starlight."

Also programmed are the following choral numbers which the choir will present: "Babe If Beauty," by John Boda; "Cherubim Hymn No. 7," by D. S. Bortolansky, arranged by P. Tschakovsky; and the "Hallelujah Chorus," from Handel's Messiah. Those present who have sung this chorus in the past, in any choir, will be invited to join the choir on the chancel steps to sing along. Copies of the chorus will be available. A closing recessional will follow, according to Rev. Samuel Boda.

All present will be extended an invitation to the fellowship hall for refreshments which ladies of the Women's Service will serve. The public is invited to attend. Rev. Boda added.

Yule bonuses for Chouteau employees

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Chouteau Township trustees agreed Monday night to give all employees of the township a Christmas bonus, with a differential between the full-time and part-time workers.

Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks asked the board members for a specific definition of who should receive the gift monies. After some discussion, with reference to last year's process, it was agreed that all those who pay into the IMRF fund will be considered full time and others will be granted the holiday pay at a lesser amount.

Due to the Christmas holiday week, Mrs. Patricia Polley announced that the trustees have agreed to change the next meeting to Thursday, Dec. 20, to convene at 7 p.m. January meetings are scheduled for the 7th and 21st.

In Sparks opening address to the board of trustees, he announced the application for a burglar alarm license from the county and a check for $25 was mailed to the sheriff's department for the license. The township's burglar alarm already has been installed.

He reported that on Nov. 29 the township received tax monies from 1983 tax collections in the amount of $219 for road and bridge fund and $115 for the town and general assistance funds. Also, on Dec. 3 the township received a payment of $3,976 for road and bridge fund and $1,900 for the town and general assistance fund.

The trustees approved the bill for the first installment, amounting to $5,460, to Juneau Associates for engineering fees in conjunction with a proposed drainage project in the township. This bill will be forwarded for payment to Community Development Funds. The total estimate from Juneau was set at $14,000 and approved at a previous township meeting.

Sealed bids for work on the drainage improvements to Long Lake Park Development in Chouteau Township will be opened at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 20, at a public meeting in the township hall, Sparks commented.

Sparks said easements for drainage project in the Tank Town area have been secured and sent to the attorney for approval. They will then be forwarded to trustees of the district for approval and must be signed before any ditching can be started, he added.

The work will include construction of ditches, removal and replacement of driveway culverts, and construction of a 24-inch storm sewer within the following separate contract divisions.

Division No. 1-Rapp Road and construction of 24 inch storm sewer, and Division No. 2-Lakeview Drive.

TRESPASSING CHARGE

Robert W. Sorenson, 38, of 3603 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged with criminal trespass to property during the weekend when arrested while allegedly trying to leave Granite City Steel property at 14th and Omaha streets. He was released upon posting a $52 cash bond, pending a hearing.

Party named in Venice Township

One of the parties offering a slate of candidates for Venice Township posts in the April elections will be called the Good Government party.

According to Venice Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff, candidates seeking township positions on the slate have not yet been determined. The new party was discussed last Friday night during a meeting of the Venice Town Board of Trustees.

In other action, the board decided to contact other township officials to determine how much other townships are paying trustees. Pashoff says per diem payments to Venice trustees may change, based on the information received by other township officials. He expects the board to make a decision on per diem payments on Jan. 4.

The board also approved the rules and regulations regarding general assistance payments made to township residents. Those policies determine who is eligible for financial assistance.

DRIVER INJURED ON THE MCKINLEY BRIDGE

A Venice police officer on patrol along the Venice levee last week, alleged seeing a van traveling on the McKinley Bridge, which struck the bridge railing, bounced off and hit three sand barrels.

When the officer arrived on the bridge, he reported finding the driver, later identified as Rondia Mack, 29, of Hayti, Mo., unconscious and hanging out of the passenger side window.

A Granite City Fire Department ambulance was called and transported the injured man to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted, a police spokesman advised.

Drivers cited for DUI, other charges

Thomas P. Carpenter, 25, of 4080 Brune Ave., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and other traffic offenses this week when his car was stopped on Madison Avenue at 18th Street.

Frederick D. Clay, 25, of 2409 Delmar Ave., one of four passengers in the vehicle, all of whom were cautioned not to drive, was arrested about an hour later and also charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

According to reports, officers first saw Carpenter's car leave a tavern parking lot on 18th Street and turn south onto State Street. The squad car followed the vehicle, which went left on 17th Street and allegedly passed stop signs before turning north onto Madison Avenue, traveling in the southbound lanes.

Carpenter's vehicle was halted at 18th Street and Madison Avenue and officers noted there were three open bottles of beer in the vehicle and two wet shot glasses.

Carpenter agreed to take a breathalyzer test and was charged with DUI, improper lane usage, illegal transportation of alcohol and three stop sign violations. He was released after posting a $102 cash bond and his driver's license.

The four passengers in the car, charged with illegal possession of alcohol and freed after posting their driver's licenses, were Clay, Steven R. Meyer, 29, of 1723 Rhodes St., Madison, Robert J. Meyer, 25, of Carbondale, and Pamela Lou Nudelmann, 26, of Hazelwood, Mo.

Before leaving police headquarters, all were advised not to drive a vehicle, reports noted. About one hour later, the group returned to the station inquiring about some keys for Carpenter's auto. The keys were eventually located in Carpenter's pocket.

Again the group was cautioned not to drive, but allegedly they got into a pickup truck and went south on Madison Avenue. The truck was stopped in the 1800 block of Madison Avenue and Clay was arrested. He agreed to undergo a breathalyzer test and was charged with DUI. He was released upon posting a $102 cash bond.

Bar Association donates $3,000 for food baskets

The Madison County Bar Association will again distribute Christmas food baskets to area charitable organizations. A total of $3,000 will be given to the Protestant Welfare Association of Granite City, the Collinsville Ministerial Alliance, the Crisis Food Center of Alton and the THANKS Program of Edwardsville.

Additionally, a fourth charitable organization that wishes to remain anonymous will also receive funding.

This represents the third consecutive year that the Bar's membership has approved these donations. The monies will be used by these charitable organizations to purchase and distribute food to area families.

A brief ceremony was to be conducted at the Madison County Courthouse at noon today, at which time, County Bar president, William S. Beatty, and William Sherwood, food program chairman, were to make presentations to representatives of the organizations.

ST. LOUIS MAN IS CHARGED IN MADISON

Brian Curtis, 2836 Denver St., told Madison police during the weekend that he and a woman friend were walking to his auto when they were accosted by three men of Laotian descent who struck and kicked him.

One of the assailants was a former friend of the woman, he alleged. Curtis reportedly sustained lacerations and contusions to his face and upper body.

During the attack, the woman got into the assailants' auto and drove to police headquarters to get help, reports said.

When Sayavong Phamphay, 24, of St. Louis, came to the Madison police station to retrieve his auto, he was arrested and charged with battery. He was released after posting a $102 cash bond, pending a Jan. 18 court appearance in Granite City.

The Girl Scouts decided to donate the canned foods to the Meals on Wheels project for the elderly and they also collected assorted toys to be given to the Salvation Army for use in holiday baskets for area needy families in time for Christmas.

Refreshments were served after the program.

Della Kinsolving

Della Kinsolving elected president of area coalition

Della Kinsolving, director of Talbot Hall, the chemical-dependency recovery unit at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, recently was elected president of the Alcoholism Coalition of the St. Louis Area.

The Alcoholism Coalition of the St. Louis Area is a voluntary, self-supporting organization which seeks to identify and bring together concerned individuals and representatives of community organizations, officials say. The coalition addresses areas of common interest and provides a forum for discussion and information about alcoholism.

Miss Kinsolving will begin her one-year term of office on Jan. 1, 1985. She said her membership in the organization helps her maintain Talbot Hall's recognition among local professionals. "It's one way to stay well represented in the St. Louis community," she commented.

Miss Kinsolving said the group's meetings are informational and deal with such issues as education and legislation concerning alcoholism. "I'd like to continue our two paid scholarships to the Missouri Teenage Institute on Substance Abuse," she said. "I'd also like to continue to keep group members informed on DUI laws and other laws affecting alcoholism and drug treatment, and to provide a good range of informative presentations for the year."

Membership in the Alcoholism Coalition of the St. Louis Area is open to professionals, paraprofessionals, students, recovering alcoholics and family members, and any other person or organization interested in or involved with the field of alcoholism.

DUI charge against motorist on tracks

Robert E. Gaughn, 39, of 2718B Center St., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol at 1:50 a.m. Tuesday after his auto was found on the railroad tracks on Niedringhaus Avenue at 16th Street.

An officer first saw the 1968 white Pontiac convertible without a driver on the tracks and asked the police dispatcher to send a wrecker and contact the railroad police.

While waiting for the tow truck to arrive, Gaughn walked up and identified himself as the driver of the auto.

Reports said the man was driving east on Niedringhaus Avenue and was turning right onto 16th Street, but instead turned onto the tracks. A railroad indicator light belonging to Terminal Railroad Association was struck by the vehicle and damaged, it was alleged.

Gaughn agreed to take a breathalyzer test. He was charged with DUI and was released after posting a $102 cash bond, pending a Jan. 11 court appearance.

CANNABIS CHARGE IS FILED AGAINST YOUTH

Steve W. Moore, 18, of 2320 Delmar Ave., was charged with illegal possession of cannabis at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Granite City High School. He was released on a notice to appear for a hearing.

Moore allegedly had a metal cigarette box containing 12 cannabis cigarettes and numerous smoked cigarette ends in his possession at the time of arrest. It was alleged.

Pontoon Beach officials amend ordinance to set tax exemption

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Pontoon Beach Village Board of Trustees Tuesday night formally exempted taxing bodies within the village from the police tax on utilities.

Board members unanimously approved amending the utility tax ordinance so that taxing bodies in the village will not be taxed on electricity, gas or telephone services.

THE BOARD ACTION brings the village closer to the annexation of Nameoki Township offices and adjoining township buildings, as requested by Nameoki Township trustees. The village board is expected to annex that the half-acre property within a month.

Nameoki Township trustees had asked that the township be exempted from paying the village's police tax on utilities. With the village board's action, the Long Lake Fire Protection District building also is exempt from the tax.

In addition to the Nameoki Township buildings, the village may annex additional properties south of Route 162 in about a month, according to Pontoon Beach Trustee Donald C. Rea.

"WE'RE ALWAYS looking at annexation," Rea told the Press-Record. "We've been talking to some people. I won't specify who they are at this time."

In other action Tuesday night, the board granted a special use permit to George Gray, who requested that he be allowed to place a mobile home at 4292 Route 162. The property is zoned for commercial use and Gray operates a disposal business there, providing and refurbishing dumpsters. He indicated he wants to place the mobile home on the property for security purposes.

The board followed the recommendation of the Zoning Board of Appeals, but went against the recommendation of the zoning administrator that the request be denied.

AFTER TRUSTEE Robert Vining made a motion that the zoning request be denied because the property is zoned for commercial use, Trustee Robert Abel argued, "As a businessman, I know what he's got."

GC Trust employees honored with dinner

The 23rd annual awards dinner of Granite City Trust and Savings Bank was conducted at Sunset Hills Country Club last week. Dinner was served to 170 employees, directors and spouses.

Toastmaster of the evening was William Patton, executive vice president.

He presented five-year awards to Dave Giese, Martha Dorris, Bonnie Burns, Laura Crawford, Barb Poznanovich and Opal Wallace; a 10-year award to Diane Kynion; 15-year award to Thelma Jacobmeyer; a 25-year award to Clara Parker and a 30-year award to Tony Zedolek.

After the presentations, music was provided by the John Fornaszewski Band.

CHARGE MAN AFTER WOMAN COMPLAINS

Marty G. Johnsey, 33, of 2400 Grand Ave., was charged with disorderly conduct during the weekend after a former friend, Robin Bodkins of St. Louis, left St. Elizabeth Medical Center parking garage and alleged being followed by Johnsey.

Miss Bodkins first drove along 21st Street toward Edwardsville Road, but then circled around to 20th Street and continued driving to police headquarters, where she made the report. She also alleged having a temporary restraining order against Johnsey.

Johnsey was seen by an officer driving in the 2300 block of Iowa Street and was stopped at Washington Avenue and placed under arrest. He was released after posting a $102 cash bond.

ARREST ON WARRANT

James W. Garrett, 23, of 1206 College St., Venice, was arrested by Venice police at Mercedes and Douglas avenues last week on a Granite City warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a speeding charge. He was released upon posting a $52 cash bond, pending a hearing.

ing through. The request is for only two years. It's not going to bother anybody."

Rea said he had received a number of complaints about the property being an "eyesore," but agreed to the zoning request after a petition bearing the signatures of neighbors in favor of the request was presented. Trustee Louis Whitsell said the petition carried the names of "the people we get complaints from."

The special use permit requires that Gray erect a fence around the property. Vincent cast the only dissenting vote on the zoning approval.

IN FINANCIAL matters, the village board agreed to contract with Stein and Associates, certified public accountants, to do the village's annual audit. The St. Louis firm will audit the village's records through April 1985 and is the same auditing firm the village used last year.

Village Clerk Mary Warren informed the board that the Illinois Department of Transportation gave approval to the board's Nov. 27 resolutions regarding Motor Fuel Tax (MFT) funds. The board has decided to supplement the 1984 road maintenance program with $5,315 from MFT funds and "has appropriated $48,162.82 from the MFT fund for the 1985 road maintenance program."

The village and Nameoki Township have agreed to allow the township highway department to perform work on village streets and the village will reimburse the township for the work. Mrs. Warren says the 1984 supplement will cover costs of cleaning catch basins and sealing streets in the village. That work was performed by township forces.

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP Highway Commissioner W. Lee Adams presented a statement for the work his department has performed for the village from Oct. 22 to Nov. 28. The board approved paying the bill of $4,785.

Adams also informed the board that his crew has opened the main culvert from Long Lake to Horseshoe Lake and discovered another culvert from Long Lake. Village officials hope the opening of the culverts will lower the level of the lake.

The board approved a bid of $2,108 from Christian Construction of Madison to replace the roof on the village hall. The bid specifies that the work will be completed within five days, weather permitting.

WARRANT ALLEGES BATTERY, ASSAULT

Timothy C. Creek, 24, of 2032 Missouri Ave., was arrested there at 12:05 p.m. Tuesday on a Granite City warrant alleging battery and aggravated assault. He was released after posting a $302 cash bond.

The charge related to an incident on Nov. 10 in which Carl Horzian of the 2600 block of Sheridan Avenue alleged Creek struck him on the head several times and broke two of the victim's teeth. The men were in a tavern at West 20th Street and Illinois Avenue at the time, it was reported.

Bonuses may be offered for quality nursing home care

Governor James R. Thompson has unveiled a proposal allowing nursing homes to receive a total of $9 million in bonus payments for providing high-quality patient care during the final months of this fiscal year.

"This program places the emphasis on quality," Thompson said. "We are going to reward nursing homes which put the patient first, and we are going to work to change the idea of what life in a nursing home should be."

In announcing the quality-incentive program at a Springfield news conference, Thompson said, "The state is working with nursing homes to chart a course for quality care. The ratings given to Illinois nursing homes by inspectors and the residents themselves will be our compass and will keep us pointed in the right direction."

The state will pay a total of $9 million in bonuses in fiscal year 1985 and $19 million in fiscal year 1986. A 100-bed nursing home could earn an additional $66,000 in fiscal year 1986 if it is awarded the highest ratings in quality inspections.

Under the Quality Incentive Program (QUIP), nursing homes will be graded in five areas:

Nursing care—both the quality and manner in which care is delivered.

Structural design—the special amenities that make a nursing home more pleasant to live in and less institutional.

Resident activities—educational, social and leisure activities that allow residents to be as active and stimulated as they want and are able to be.

Community integration—equipment and programs, such as wheelchair vans and volunteer programs, that help nursing home residents to be more active in their communities.

Resident satisfaction—as determined by ratings awarded by nursing home residents themselves.

QUIP inspections will be conducted by 85 nurses to be hired by the Department of Public Aid (DPA). The nurses will also act as consultants, working with nursing homes to improve the quality of care.

"QUIP provides the incentives to achieve the high level of patient care for the senior citizens of Illinois that we can all be proud of," Department of Public Aid Director Gregory L. Coler said.

Only three other states have quality-incentive programs like Illinois', but none of them offers bonuses as large, Coler noted.

Only now on the agencies that regulate nursing homes will work together more closely to ensure a strong and consistent approach to the care of nursing home residents in Illinois, and to make the most of the state's involvement while reducing bureaucratic obstacles," said Thomas B. Kirkpatrick, director of the Department of Public Health.

Thompson added that nursing home associations have decided to back his amendatory veto of the Nursing Home Reform Act, passed during the last legislative session.

Thompson's amendatory veto of Senate Bill 1935 provided nursing homes with a 15 percent increase in the rate the state pays for treating Medicaid patients. The increase, the first in nearly three years, will cost the state $63 million in fiscal year 1985—$23 million less than the bill as passed.

The amendatory veto, outlining the method for implementing an agreement between the DPA and nursing homes, was affirmed in a ruling by U.S. District Court Judge James S. Moran.

Thompson said that Illinois nursing homes and several state departments will sponsor a conference on long-term care next spring. The conference will offer an opportunity for nursing home operators, regulatory agencies and experts in long-term care to share ideas and promote quality care. It will be the first such conference ever conducted in Illinois.

Commodities to be distributed D.U.V. tent conducts luncheon

Officials in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships have announced that they will give out surplus government commodities next week.

Commodities will include: processed cheese, cheddar cheese, butter, dry milk, honey, cornmeal and flour. The honey, cornmeal, dry milk and flour are in short supply and persons will be asked to take their choice of one. All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis. Commodities for Granite City Township residents will not be available until after Christmas.

To be eligible to receive commodities, persons must be residents of the township where they are getting the cheese, they must be heads of households or spouses, have their Social Security numbers and sign affidavits that their total household income is within the correct guidelines. Each recipient should bring some proof of residency other than a driver's license. An unpaid utility bill or a voter's registration card is adequate.

Income guidelines are as follows: one person, $319; two persons, $700; three persons, $881; four persons, $1063; five persons, $1,244; six persons, $1,425; seven persons, $1,606; eight persons, $1,788 and $181 may be added for each additional member of the household.

Chouteau Township will begin distribution at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Dec. 17, at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 6974 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, behind the Midwest Motel. Officials stress that the doors will not be opened until 9:30 a.m., so that they can get the program set up properly.

Venice Township will give out commodities at 9 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 20, at Englebert Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue, Madison. Township officials advise that money should not be fed to children under 12 months of age.

Officials also note that there will be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

The Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., will not distribute commodities to Granite City Township residents until after Christmas. JUVENILE CHARGED WITH BATTERY, PROPERTY DAMAGE

A 16-year-old Granite City youth has been charged with aggravated battery and criminal damage to property following incidents Monday at Mr. Donut, 3134 Nameoki Road.

According to Granite City police, an employee of the shop, Tony Hunt, ejected several students from the shop a week ago and one of the youths became unruly, throwing a cup of soda at Hunt. The youth was told he would be barred from the shop.

On Monday, Hunt told police, the youth came back to the shop at about 1:30 a.m. and was told to leave. Later, Hunt went to the back of the shop to unload a supply truck. He reported that the youth was standing on the edge of the parking lot.

Hunt alleged that the youth threw a rock at him and that the rock struck Hunt's nearby car, bounced off the car and hit Hunt's foot. The rock put a dent in the left side of Hunt's car.

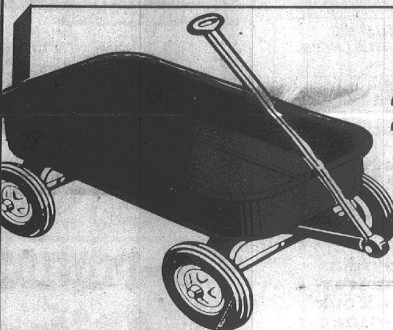

Police picked the suspect up in the parking lot of National Food Store.

The youth has pleaded not guilty to the charges and has been released on his own recognizance.
